CERTIFICATEWavin AS – Application in Laboratories

We herewith certify that our Wavin AS system is used in many laboratories in Germany. Wavin AS is resistant against acids and lyes with a pH-value from pH 2 to pH 12. Here we are dealing with requirements as they are defined in DIN 1986 for soil and waste pipes. Because of this, Wavin AS is used in laboratories of schools, in hospitals (e. g. in the Kreiskrankenhaus in Garmisch-Partenkirchen and in the Marienhospital in Papenburg), in dentist's offices, but also in large kitchens and slaughterhouses, where aggressive cleaning agents and fatty acids are used, like in the slaughterhouse Emstek, one of the biggest meat-processing companies in Northern Germany.

CERTIFICATEWavin AS – Application in Hospitals

We herewith certify that our Wavin AS system is suitable for the drainage of aggressive media. Pipes, which are made of this raw material do not corrode and are resistant against hot water. They meet the requirements of DIN 1986, where utilizability is demanded for the pH-range from 2 to 12.

Because of its sound behaviour, our Wavin AS system has been used for quite a long time more and more in hospitals and doctor's offices. In the past, already a lot of hospitals have been equipped with Wavin AS.

Furthermore, our Wavin AS system is used for all drainage systems inside of buildings, as well as for large kitchens and slaughter houses. Because of the resistance of the raw material, one can expect a long-term functional life.
This statement refers to the pre-inserted sealing elements of the push-fit connection system.

Deposits of cooled down greases are independent of the material and are solely determined by the present hydraulic conditions and the operating temperatures. On account of the smooth inner surface of the pipe there are no incrustations. Therefore, a continuous dissolving of greasy deposits is possible.

With kind regards,
Wavin GmbH
